

The SOONER the victory the MORE boys who will come home. That great day is coming, and soon. All over America every whistle and bell that has a voice will shout the news, every mother that has a son will thank God, and every citizen of the world that loves Democracy will be free once more. It will truly be a great day. Stirring martial bands will hail the returning heroes as they march down Main Street, a lump will rise in everyone's throat as they recognize their sons and their neighbors' sons. To hasten the joyous day—let's pray, let's work and let's buy Bonds.
